Clendenen's Cider Works

Fortuna, California

Located in the unceded territory and current home land of the Wiyot Tribe

Clif and Drew in their orchard.

Faces Behind The Farm:

Clif and Laurie Clendenen and their son, Drew.

Farm Facts:

The Clendenen family has been growing apples for over 100 years! They harvest more than 50 tons of apples each year from August through December. The fruit that doesn't look nice enough to sell whole is made into apple cider that is only available to purchase at their store in Fortuna. The Clendenens still use the same apple press that the family purchased in 1916!
